FIRST AID.

COLONY'S AMBULANCE DEFICIENCIES.

MINIMUM NEEDS.

With but two motor ambulances serving a city having over 400,000 inhabitants, and with but one motor ambulance serving Kowloon and the New Territories having over 200,000 inhabitants, it cannot be said that the Colony of Hongkong has done anything lavish or even adequate, in the matter of first aid and ambulance provision for the sick of the accidentally injured.

Since the much-regretted death of little Miss Bessie Mackay there has been a lot of public criticism of the Colony's motor ambulance service, and in order that the public might be the better able to judge of the lamentable inadequacy of that service, a Telegraph representative has been making some enquiries from which we learn of the following facts:

THE PRESENT SERVICE.

There are two motor ambulances in Hongkong, both stationed at the Fire Station in Des Voeux Road. They are both available for duty at any time of the day or night, the drivers working in reliefs. Each ambulance has two attendants who have received first-aid instruction from Dr. Thomas, of the Tung Wah Hospital. These ambulances are available for foreigners, for Chinese and for any naval and military cases, and have also to take over any stretcher cases which come across the harbour from Kowloon for admission into a Hongkong hospital. They have often gone out as far as Repulse Bay Hotel to bring in a sick person, they frequently go to the Victoria, Peak and Matilda Hospitals, and it not infrequently happens that they are both away on some such work when an urgent call comes through in connection with an accident. These two motor ambulances answer calls averaging about three per day, but it frequently happens (as it necessarily must) that they are both away together. The drivers get paid about $40 per month and the attendants are paid $20 per month—a wage which is far too low to attract the right type of man. Two attendants to one ambulance is not enough, the men complain, because patients are often heavy and have to be carried long distances (especially at Matilda Hospital) and because the motor ambulance stretchers are, by reason of their special construction, much heavier than an ordinary hand stretcher.

There is one motor ambulance in Kowloon—a big blue one that was out here for some time before the two new white ambulances which serve Hongkong. There is one driver (whose relief is arranged with the drivers of the fire-engines) and two attendants, and the ambulance is available at all hours of the day and night. Long distance calls, such as to Taiipo and to accidents at any point on the Kowloon-Fanling Road, are not infrequent and should there be two simultaneous calls for the ambulance, then one of the cases might possibly have to wait for two hours or more before the vehicle is free. The military authorities have the use of the ambulance when required, and cases of ordinary sickness among the civil population needing removal to hospital frequently engage the services of the vehicle. When a patient is being removed to Hongkong, the Kowloon ambulance has to stand by to take the patient to the "Star" ferry until such time as an ambulance is on the Hongkong side waiting to take the patient off the boat. It would be no use taking a patient across the harbour without there being an ambulance on the Hongkong side. Much waiting

FRENCH CRISIS.

SEEKING A STABLE MAJORITY.

Paris, Nov. 24. M. Briand has declined to form a Government, and M. Doumer has been summoned. M. Briand on leaving the Elysee, told pressmen that he would be delighted to include MM. Herriot, Painlevé, Klotz, and Paul Boncour and even representatives of the Centre in a ministry of Republican unity capable of restoring the country's finances, but he was unable to obtain the support necessary to command a stable majority. M. Paul Doumer, is the President of the Senate Finance Committee, and is an ex-Governor of Indo-China.—Reuter.

Later. M. Paul Doumer has asked for twenty-four hours to consider the formation of a Cabinet. It appears that the Socialists report M. Briand's offer of three portfolios, and claimed half the Cabinet.—Reuter. London, Nov. 24. The French franc in London, fell to the new low record of 126.65.—Reuter.

FALL FROM VERANDA.

PORTUGUESE CHILD'S INJURIES.

The three-year-old daughter of Mr. V. A. Rozario was injured yesterday in a fall from the first floor veranda of his home, in No. 10 Chi Wo Street. The child sustained a number of fractures to her limbs, and was taken to the Kwong Wah Hospital. Later she was transferred to the Government Civil Hospital.

After any case of infectious disease has been handled, the ambulances and all their equipment have to be disinfected and this often puts one of them out of commission for some time. The number of cases from the military and naval authorities constitute fully 50 per cent. of the whole and it is felt, by those with whom our representative conferred, that the provision of their own arrangements by the military and naval authorities would greatly minimise the chances of dangerous delay for others.

MINIMUM NEEDS.

If the Hongkong Fire Station were supplied with three ambulances and above all, with an ample supply of fully trained first-aid attendants, it is thought that the provision would then be adequate. Rarely are there more than three simultaneous calls on the Hongkong side, and three ambulances, with drivers and three attendants to each always ready for duty, would suffice, at least for present needs. In Kowloon, which is soon to have its own hospital, two ambulances each with three fully-trained attendants and a driver always available, would be sufficient, it is thought, apart from abnormal happenings. The Fire Stations are, perhaps, the most convenient depots for ambulances, because there is both civil and government telephonic communication and because it is undoubtedly economical for the ambulance drivers to be worked in with the fire engine drivers. Supervision of equipment and men comes very naturally under the Station chiefs.

The trouble in the past has been the reluctance of the Government to spend money on the ambulance service, treating it as something quite subsidiary and not of great urgent importance. The attendants ought to be better paid, thus attracting a better and more fully qualified type of man, and the number of vehicles should be increased at least to the number suggested in the foregoing paragraph. Only when some such thorough revision and improvement of the present service is undertaken will the public feel that the ambulance provision of the Colony is more

INTO FUKIEN.

CANTON ARMY MAKES PROGRESS.

TWO-HOUR BATTLE.

News to hand from the East River districts show that the Canton Government forces are still pursuing the retreating troops formerly under the command of General Chan King-ming's subordinates. In one instance the latter offered resistance and in a battle which ensued over 1,200 prisoners were taken by the attackers, as well as considerable quantities of arms and ammunition.

The battle referred to took place within Fukien territory, at a place near Wing Ting, to which remnants of General Lim Foo's defeated troops had been forced to retreat in face of the advance of the Canton forces. At this place, the retreating troops made a stand, with the result that the Canton forces under Ching Chien captured over 1,200 prisoners, more than 40 rifles, four machine-guns, two field guns, thirty horses and a large quantity of ammunition.

The engagement lasted for about two hours, and in the end the troops of Lim Foo who had not been captured or killed, numbering some 2,000 fled in disorder. It is expected that they will now become nothing more than a band of roving robbers.

It is reported that Chang Ngai, under instructions from Chow Yum-yan, has informed Kung Shao-lin (another of Chan King-ming's commanders) that his forces could only be permitted to remain in Fukien on condition that he would place them under the command of Chang Ngai himself. In consequence of this communication, Hung ordered Tse Man-ping and Li Wan-fook to lead the men northwards to Ting Chow, but on arriving at Shang Hau, they were prevented from going further, and had to divert their route towards the boundary of Kiangsi, where they are said to be leading a nomadic life.

A telegram received by the Canton Government from Tapu, under date of the 15th inst., states: "After the capture of Swatow, General Chang Kai-shek instructed the left wing under Ching Chien to pursue the enemy to Fukien. On the 9th our forces advanced through Tapu, and on the 13th captured Wing-ling, Fukien. A large quantity of ammunition and military equipment was taken by us."

QUEEN MOTHER'S FUNERAL.

PROPOSED DAY OF GENERAL MOURNING.

As has already been announced, the funeral of the late Queen Alexandra is to take place on Friday, on which day there will be a special memorial service in St. John's Cathedral at 10 a.m.

We understand that the question of proclaiming Friday a day of general mourning in Hongkong is now before the Executive Council, and that there is every probability that the day will be so observed here, in which event Government

CANTON DELEGATES.

GIVEN GOOD SEND-OFF TO-DAY.

When the morning boat for Canton left this morning, it had aboard the members of the mission representing Canton's commercial interests who are returning to the city with the best possible report of the cordial relations re-established with this Colony after more than six months' dislocation of business. They also took with them a firmly implanted belief of the goodwill of Hongkong, manifested continuously during the period of their five days' sojourn in the Colony, in the course of which they had abundant opportunities of coming into intimate contact with official and social Hongkong. That belief, if possible, was further strengthened by the cordial leave-taking which marked this morning's departure of the delegation. A considerable number of persons, representative of the commercial interests of Hongkong, were present on the wharf amongst whom were Sir Paul Chater, the Hon. Mr. P. H. Holyoak, Mr. D. G. M. Bernard, Mr. G. M. Young, Mr. F. A. Perry, Mr. John Arnold, Hon. Mr. R. H. Kotewall, Dr. S. W. Tso, Mr. Ho Kwong, Mr. Li Yau-tsun, Mr. Wong Kwong-tin, and many other prominent merchants.

Mr. Holyoak, on behalf of the British community, wished them bon voyage and, as Chairman of the Steamboat Company, asked the delegation to allow the Company to offer them a free passage to Canton, an offer which was accepted with thanks of the delegates. Mr. Kotewall wished them every success on their return to Canton and a pleasant trip, on behalf of the Chinese community.

It was announced in the complimentary tiffin given to the delegates on the roof garden of the Hongkong Hotel yesterday that Hongkong's official delegation to go up to Canton to confer for the settlement of the strike had been chosen. A Telegraph representative enquired from Mr. Kotewall to-day as to the probable date of the departure of Hongkong's official delegation, and was informed that this would not be known until word had been received from Canton as to the selection of the city's official delegation. The impression prevails amongst Chinese commercial circles that the Hongkong delegation may be called upon to go up on Monday.

BOXING CHALLENGE.

MAJOR SEEKS A BOUT.

Harry Major (late of the Surreys) is prepared to meet either A. B. Gardner, of H.M.S. Hermes, or Drummer Bowles, of the Surreys, in a bout for the featherweight championship of the Colony. An intimation to this effect is to hand in a letter which Major writes to the Telegraph in the following terms:—"Dear Sir,—Would you be kind enough to publish in your columns that I am prepared to box either Gardner or Bowles in a contest of either ten or fifteen rounds for the Featherweight Belt at any date the Association may decide during January next? I stipulate a weight of nine stone, and I would also state that I am willing to back myself for $100.—Yours faithfully, HARRY MAJOR."

"VIA SIBERIA."

ALLEGED TAMPERING WITH MAILS.

Serious allegations were made at a meeting of the Bradford Chamber of Commerce of heavy delay and miscarriage of mails from Britain to the Far East via Siberia. The delegates asserted that many mails were missing, and that letters were tampered with apparently when passing Soviet territory.

NEW ALLIANCE.

FRESH DEVELOPMENT IN SOUTH.

ANTI-RED COMBINE.

A report from Pakhoi is to hand that a new development in the military situation in the extreme southern sector has been revealed. The recent consolidation of the forces of Tang Poon-yan, Sun Pao-fan and Lum Ching-ting, has resulted in Luk Wing-ting ex-Tuchan of Kwangsi, sending his representative, Luk Fook-cheong, with an offer to form a quadruple alliance between Tang, Sun, Lum and Luk. This alliance it is stated, has materialised. The strength of this combination is stated to be about forty thousand strong. With Wong Tai-wai on the field with Tang Poon-yan, it is believed that the coming struggle in the southern sector will be very severe. It is stated that martial law has been declared on Hainan Island owing to the frequency of disturbances by bandits under the name of the 'Peoples' Army. Li Fook-lum, after receiving an order from the Canton Government to proceed with an adequate force, and with the two gunboats, Kong Hien and Chun Chip, to co-operate in the action against the bandits, who were said to have assembled in large numbers at Hoi Chew, has now reported to the Government that the bandits had already fled before his arrival, and that the place is now quiet and free of the presence of robbers.

CHANGE OF COMMAND.

Following the report of the dissatisfaction of Hunan and Yunnan troops with the actions of General Chang Ming-shu, it is now reported that the military Council has decided that the direction of all operations in the southwest sector shall be given over to the Chief of the General Staff, with Chu Pui-tek commanding the 3rd Army Corps and a part of the Kwangsi unit, as the left wing, and with Li Chai-sun commanding the 4th Army Corps, and a part of the Hunan unit as the right wing. By this means, it is expected, the spread of dissatisfaction will be prevented and, in course of time, will die out.

It is stated that Kongsun will be the headquarters of the Chief of the General Staff, from which, in future, all orders for the direction of war operations will be issued. It is surmised that the adoption of the preceding measures is the outcome of the reorganization of the different units that is still being carried on by General Gallant.

CORPSE-FACTORY STORY.

QUESTIONED IN PARLIAMENT.

The old German corpse-factory story cropped up in the House of Commons, when Sir L. Worthington-Evans, replying to Comdr. Kenworthy's request for information as to the source of the rumour and the extent to which the War Office accepted it, said the statement first appeared in the Lokal Anzeiger of Berlin, and two Belgian newspapers. Later a German army order was captured, appearing to confirm the story. The War Office saw no reason to disbelieve its truth. He did not think the public interest

BUILDING CONTRACT.

SUMMARY COURT JUDGMENT.

Mr. Justice Wood delivered judgment in a claim for $836.41 for extra work done and extra materials supplied in respect of a building contract, at the Summary Court this morning. The case referred to the building of Nos. 50, and 25 Tai Yuen Street.

His Lordship said the plaintiff was a building contractor, and had done certain work for the defendant under a building contract and he claimed to be paid in respect of it. The contract was in writing and was dated August 30th, 1924. The dispute had arisen as to the amount to be paid for the work done. The plaintiff claimed $836.41. The defendant, while not admitting any legal liability on the present writ, was prepared to offer the sum of $455. He then went on to speak about certain clauses in the contract, referring to any dispute which might arise, and gave judgment for the plaintiff for the amount claimed with costs.

SOVIET RAILWAY.

CHINA REFUSES TO SIGN AGREEMENT.

Moscow, Nov. 24. It is semi-officially stated that the views of the refusal of the Chinese Government to sign the agreement regarding through passenger communication between the Soviet Railways, the Soviet, Japanese and Chinese Railway Conference on the matter has been temporarily suspended on the suggestion of the Soviet delegates. The Russo-Japanese Commission on roads traffic will begin its work within a few days.—Reuter.

COTTON INDUSTRY.

BRITAIN'S OPTIMISTIC FUTURE.

London, Nov. 24. An optimistic view of the future of the cotton industry was taken by Mr. Richard Brooks in his presidential address at the annual meeting of the Manchester Cotton Association. The great reason for optimism existing more to-day than for several years past, was the bountiful cotton crops of the world, for the world was assured of a most adequate supply. Britain had 57,000,000 spindles, out of the world's spindleage of 102,000,000. America's spindleage was 38,000,000 spindles, and they were largely engaged in supplying domestic requirements, so that it would be strange if we failed to receive our due share of any improvement in world-buying. The organised curtailment of output had undoubtedly saved the industry from a serious financial crisis and even now, despite the more optimistic outlook, curtailment was still essential to avert excessive over-production at ruinous prices. The question of a "futures" market for Manchester was seriously engaging the Association's attention.—Reuter.

IRISH BOUNDARY.

PROF. MACNEILL RETIRES FROM GOVERNMENT.

London, Nov. 24. Professor John MacNeill has resigned from the Free State Government. Professor MacNeill's resignation was announced in the Dail by President Cosgrave. Prof. MacNeill, referring to the statement issued by the Boundary Commission said it was calculated to cause grave misconception. He did not controvert it where it stated

MUKDEN REVOLT.

CHANG TSO-LIN REPORTED PRISONER.

PEKING RUMOURS.

According to a Reuter's telegram from Peking, received this morning, rumours are current in the capital that Marshal Chang Tso-lin has been made a prisoner. The telegram, which is very brief, is on the following terms:—

"Peking, November 24th.—An unconfirmed report is current here this evening to the effect that a revolution against Chang Tso-lin has occurred at Mukden, and that Chang has been made a prisoner."

An earlier telegram from Peking stated:— Marshal Chang Tso-lin is accusing General Feng Yu-hsiang of breaking the agreement mentioned on the 18th instant, following an attack on Mukden troops withdrawing from Pao-tung-fu by Honan troops, which nominally support General Feng.—Reuter.

[A message received on the 18th instant stated that representatives of Feng Yu-hsiang and Chang Tso-lin had signed a peace agreement, providing for the withdrawal of the Manchurian troops 30 miles eastward of the Peking-Hankow line and the establishment of a joint office in Peking to discuss the Premiership, the reconstruction of the Cabinet and the election of a President.]

A BRIEF BIOGRAPHY.

General Chang Tso-lin, the Mukden Warlord, is about 50 years of age. He received practically no education in his youth, and first came into prominence by fighting on the side of Japan in the Russo-Japanese war. After the war, he surrendered with his men to the Chinese Government, and then received quick promotion on account of the bravery and good discipline of his force. He was appointed Military Governor of Fengtien after the Revolution in 1911 and he still holds that office, in spite of the fact that he has been "dismissed" from it. He has exerted control over an extremely large and well-organised army, with headquarters at Mukden. He served President Yuan Shih-kai and then assisted Tuan Chi-jui (now Chief Executive) to restore the Republic in 1917 against the coup of General Chang Hsun. He was made Inspecting-General of the Three Eastern Provinces in 1918, and with General Tsoo Kun, in 1920, led an expedition to disband the Anfu political club. After he was "defeated" by the forces of the Chihli party in the fighting in and around Peking in the Spring of 1922, he was ordered to be relieved of all his posts, but he has defied the Central Government and has virtually ruled Manchuria as an independent Province. Recently there have been intrigues and alliances between Chang and other prominent leaders in the North, but within the past few weeks Chang's position has considerably weakened.

It is interesting to note that in a recent interview with an American press correspondent, Chang Tso-lin spoke strongly of the need of the Powers backing some strong, able and experienced leader who had proved his ability by administering some particular area. In the same interview, he strongly expressed himself against Bolshevism, saying it was not only a menace to China but to the world as a whole. "Bolshevism," he declared, "is only a little flame now; soon it will be a big flame; after that, it may spread and burn up the whole house—China and the foreign Powers as well." He added that he was largely responsible for putting Marshal Tuan Chi-jui, the Chief Executive, into office, "and now he is apparently under the influence of the Russians and of Feng Yu-hsiang, and he permits

The Menu.

An excellent tiffin was served by the Hongkong Hotel, the Menu being as follows:

Fruit Cocktail
Mock Turtle Soup
Fried Garoupa
Chicken Pilau
Roast Turkey and Ham
Lemon Bavaroise
Raspberry Junket
Dessert Coffee

At the conclusion of tiffin Mr. Wu Chung-tong, Chairman of the Canton Delegation, proposed the toast of "His Majesty the King." The Chairman (the Hon. Mr. P. H. Holyoak) responded by proposing "The Chinese Government and the Provincial Government of Kwangtung."

Both toasts were enthusiastically honoured.

The Chairman then said: Gentlemen, on behalf of our General Chamber of Commerce here, represented by the very large number of hosts present, I desire most cordially to welcome you amongst us to-day. There are several firms and Corporations represented at this table who have had over 70 years of continuously happy and beneficial trading associations with our friends in Canton, which have been temporarily interrupted by unfortunate misunderstandings, but which we are all sincerely confident will now speedily be dissolved. (Applause.)

The Toasts.

It is in the belief that your visit to us—which we hope to reciprocate before many days have passed—will lead to an entire clearing up of the situation and the resumption of our former happy associations, that I ask the Members of our Association to rise and drink to "The health of our guests and the prosperity of the great City from which they come. (Applause.)"

The toast was drunk with enthusiasm. Mr. Wu Chung-tong, in reply said: It goes without saying that we highly appreciate the courtesies you have shown us to-day and hope you will give us an opportunity in the near future of reciprocating. I may venture to add that there has never been an occasion heretofore for Hongkong and Canton merchants to meet in this friendly manner. Mr. Fletcher said yesterday that persons talk in this way will serve to brush aside misunderstandings, and in my view such gatherings should take place more frequently in the future. The friendly tie between Chinese and Foreign interests in South China will thus be greatly strengthened and similar misunderstandings will not arise again.

Fight a Good Thing.

It may also quote the Chinese saying, "If we do not fight we shall never get to know one another well" (Laughter). Now we look for a better understanding and we hope you will arrange more meetings of this kind in the days to come. If our Chambers of Commerce can be of use towards that end, please do not hesitate to call upon us: We are always ready to be at your service.

I take this opportunity of expressing our sincere thanks for all the courteous hospitality shown to this Delegation by the Government, the Merchants and the general public of Hongkong during our brief stay in the Colony. I need not say how much this will be appreciated by the public of Canton and I know that your courteous reception has

MACAO'S DEPUTY.

AN EVENTFUL ELECTION.

Sunday, the 22nd November, this year, was for many a great day, says the Diario de Macao. At all hours of the day the Municipal Chambers were thronged by electors each eager to cast his vote for his favoured candidate. With only two candidates for the position of Deputy for Macao a choice was perhaps an easy matter, and by five in the afternoon the balloting was all over and Mr. Manuel Ferreira da Rocha declared victor with 280 votes, his opponent Dr. Santos Monteiro securing 122 votes.

Supporters of Mr. Rocha carried their demonstrations of satisfaction far into the night, crackers were greatly in demand and thus ended another eventful election.

been highly gratifying to the Chinese residents in this Colony. You all know what our mission is, and we can assure you we will make every effort to bring these unfortunate misunderstandings to a happy conclusion. Gentlemen, I thank you. (Applause.)

Mr. Wu Chung-tong then called upon the guests to drink the health of the hosts and soon after this the proceedings terminated.

Canton Delegates. Final Attendance.

A meeting between the Canton delegates and the Hongkong merchants was held yesterday afternoon at 3 p.m. at the Chinese Merchants' Club, China Building, with the Hon. Mr. Chow Shou-son in the chair. He remarked that yesterday was the last day of the mission, and of their meeting together, and on behalf of his members, he thanked them for coming. He hoped that with the help of the Canton delegates an early settlement of the strike would be come to. He also stated that, owing to another engagement, he was sorry he could not go to the wharf to bid them good-bye; for which, he asked to be forgiven, but he hoped they would enjoy a pleasant voyage to Canton. In conclusion he said, regarding Messrs. Wu Chung-tong and Kan Kum-shek's request for the appointment of official delegates, that he was glad to announce the names, which were Sir Paul Chater, Mr. D. G. M. Bernard, the Hon. Mr. R. H. Kotewall and himself.

Hon. Mr. Kotewall was the second speaker. He assured the Canton delegates that the Hongkong Government had a genuine desire to negotiate with Canton, and asked the Canton merchants to make helpful propaganda to the public after returning from Hongkong. Mr. Kan Kum-shek then rose to express thanks for the welcome from the various associations. He pointed out that before the official delegates of either side met together for the discussion of the terms, all misunderstandings must be brushed aside, as most quarrels between two persons resulted from misunderstandings. He mentioned that certain newspapers had published untrue statements, which made the two parties misunderstood, thus prolonging the strike. Hongkong papers, he added, had published many times that Canton would declare for Bolshevism, and this had never come true. He therefore asked the Hongkong public not to have this in their minds.

Several Hongkong merchants and the Canton delegates also made short speeches and the meeting broke up at 4 p.m.

CHINESE RECREATION CLUB.

ANNUAL REPORT FOR 1924.

Rapidly Increasing Membership.

The annual report of the Chinese Recreation Club, to be presented to the annual meeting of members on Sunday, states:

Your Committee begs to submit the 13th annual report and statement of accounts, covering the year 1924.

Membership.—Up to April 1925, our total membership was 419, including 116 life members, 249 ordinary members, 45 outpost members, and 9 honorary members. During the period, i.e., 1924—April 1925, 72 members joined, 5 rejoined, 13 resigned and 2 died.

Club House.—The steady increase of membership necessitated the extension of the Club House. An annex was built providing a bigger dressing room, more storage accommodation, an office for the Secretary and servants' quarters. Hot and cold shower baths and flush toilets were installed, and in addition to the above, 67 new lockers were made for the general convenience of members. The plans were drawn by Mr. H. Way, to whom we owe a deep debt of gratitude.

Ground.—Owing to a great influx of new members six courts had to be regularly opened and consequently the ground was not in as good a condition as it should be. The N.E. corner of the ground was re-turfed so as to allow more courts to be used.

Tennis.

We entered three teams for the H.K. Tennis League, 1st Division, Second Division A and B. The Senior team did not always turn out in full strength and consequently did not do well. Second Division A again won the shield. We congratulate the team on its success.

In the Open Championship Singles of the Colony, Mr. Ng Sze-kwong, Champion for the last seven years, yielded his title to Honda, who defeated him, but not until after a series of ding-dong battles, for the match had to be replayed twice. The brothers Lo Man-kam, and Lo Man-wei were the runners-up in the Open Championship Doubles.

We congratulate Ho Ka-lau on his becoming the Champion of the Club and also on his being selected to represent China in the Far Eastern Olympic games held at Manila.

We thank the following gentlemen for presenting the Challenge Cups: Mr. Ho Kwong for the Singles and Mr. Wong Kam-fook for the Doubles.

Cricket.

We entered only one team and that for the First Division and came out last but one. This was not so bad as it looked, for the matches played were real tussles and there were some exciting finishes. In this department our greatest lack is new blood. With practically all the schools turning their attention to football and tennis, the grand old game is set aside and consequently our club has suffered for want of new players. We appeal to the schoolmasters of the colony to revive interest in the wielding of the willow among their charges.

At Home.

On October 10th, our National Independence Day, we were at Home. There were about 100 guests present. After saluting the Rainbow, H.E. Liang Shih-ye gave an address on the economic situation of China. The brass band of the Confucian Society was in attendance. In the evening a

THE TRADE LOAN.

BANKS' ADVANCES ON GOVERNMENT'S BEHALF.

Mercantile Bank Increasing Its Note Issue.

The Hon. Colonial Secretary advises as follows:

A further deposit of gilt edged securities valued at £250,000 is being made with the Crown Agents for the Colonies in London by the Head Office of the Mercantile Bank of India, Ltd., as security for additional note issue by their Hongkong Branch. It is proposed to put this money at the disposal of the Government in connection with the trade loan.

[The last published figures showed that the Mercantile Bank had $550,000 specie in reserve in Hongkong and £130,000 in securities deposited with the Crown Agents, against an average note circulation of $1,364,342. The Hongkong and Shanghai Bank has $36,000,000 and £3,108,097 against a circulation of $46,871,709, and the Chartered Bank has $5,000,000 and £1,049,600 against a circulation of $14,712,913.]

ILLICIT OPIUM.

CHINESE GIRL'S OFFENCE.

A Chinese girl was yesterday ordered by Mr. R. E. Lindsell to pay a fine of $400, or in the alternative to undergo three months' imprisonment, on a charge of having in her possession illicit opium.

Two men were also charged, and both admitted the offence. One who had been previously convicted on a similar charge was fined $100 or six weeks, while the other was ordered to pay $50 or undergo four weeks' imprisonment on each charge.

OBITUARY.

WIDOW OF EX-KING THEBAW.

Rangoon, Nov. 24.—The death is announced of Supayalat, the widow of ex-King Thebaw of Burma.—Reuter.

(Owing to a dispute with India the British troops occupied Burma in 1886, King Thebaw being deposed and the country being annexed to the Indian Empire).

banquet was held at the Club House and the toast of the Republic of China was enthusiastically drunk.

The annual At Home was held on 9th May and a big gathering of members and friends was present to witness an exhibition doubles between O'Callaghan, and Tottenham and Ng Sze-kwong and M. W. Lo. One of the Patrons of the Club provided tea and refreshments, while Mr. Wong Tze-chai was kind enough to provide us with a band. Mrs. Wong Kam-fook very kindly gave away the prizes, which were donated by various members, and the evening ended by a delightful dance held at the Club House.

Obituary.

We regret to have to record the death of Chan Pui, our shroff. He was one of the pillars of the club, having served it ever since its foundation 1912. As a recognition of his long and faithful services, a sum of about 400 dollars was subscribed by the members for the bereaved family.

Accounts.—Our financial position is again very sound.

The building, which contains spacious offices and flats, was designed by the A. P. C.'s architect, who was present at the opening ceremony. This picture was taken before the official gathering and shows the flag decorations. A welcome feature of the occasion, in spite of troubles which have beset Nanking, was the large attendance of Chinese friends.

A VALUABLE SERVICE.

It would indeed be extremely regrettable if, because of justified criticism of the Colony's ambulance and first-aid arrangements (dealt with at greater length in a special article elsewhere in this issue), the impression gained currency that there is any complaint against the efficiency and work of the local District of the St. John's Ambulance Association. It must be very clearly borne in mind that we are criticising only the Government's provision, or lack of provision, of an adequately equipped and staffed public ambulance and first-aid service, and that we are not unmindful of the very valuable part voluntary services of the members of the St. John's Ambulance Association. We hasten to make this perfectly clear in view of any possible misconception. Enjoying a membership of over 70, all of whom are qualified to render first-aid to the injured, the local Association has done yeoman work, which we are in danger of forgetting all too quickly. The members of the three Divisions—Y.M.C.A., Kowloon and Indian—very spontaneously came forward during the recent strike, and for some weeks at least the Colony's motor ambulances on the island and in Kowloon were served by voluntary attendants drawn from the Kowloon and Indian Divisions. During the outbreak of small-pox early in 1924, members of the Association vaccinated over 12,000 Chinese, and the heroic work performed in the recent terrible Po Hing Fong disaster is still fresh in the minds of all. On many occasions the Government has seen fit to express thanks for the services rendered. Among the staff of the Kowloon-Canton Railway there has been infused something akin to enthusiasm for first-aid work, and these in charge of the Association are at all times ready and willing to organise classes of instruction when and where desired, to provide the lecturers and examiners, and to award certificates to those who succeed in becoming proficient. From enquiries we have made we have learned the details of much valuable work which was rendered by members of the Association during the recent troubles, of the number of casualty cases with which they were concerned, and we can assure readers (if any assurance is needed) that there is nothing but credit and high praise due to the young men who devoted so much of their time to gratuitous service on behalf of the general community. We cannot help but thinking that much more advantage might be taken of the Association by the Authorities in the way of greater encouragement to the men of the police force to form a strong Division within their ranks. In many of the police forces at Home, the possession of a St. John's Ambulance first-aid badge carries with it an increase of pay and we think that a similar inducement might be made here in Hongkong. Obviously, a police officer with first-aid knowledge is of more value to the general community than one who has no such knowledge, and if extra pay went with a badge (just as it does with a language certificate) our force would be all the better for it.

Suppressing Banditry.

It is welcome news to hear that the Canton authorities have in hand a comprehensive scheme which aims at the suppression of bandit activity. Working with armed forces on land and water, together with aeroplanes, if found necessary, the Government is credited with the intention of organising a big movement by which it is hoped to extirpate or scatter brigand bands in all parts of Kwangtung, and for the better carrying out of the plan a system of district committees and sub-committees has been devised. It is thus hoped to secure the active co-operation of every town and village in the project, and this appears to be quite feasible in view of the admirable local government system in vogue in practically every part of China. We in Hongkong with the Canton authorities every success in their efforts, for the bandit evil is one which causes injury not only to the people and trade of Kwangtung but as a consequence, to the business interests of this Colony as well. One part of the Canton scheme is the patrolling of waterways by gunboats and armed launches, and this should prove extremely valuable in keeping a check on the activities of individuals who are often loosely referred to as pirates, but who in reality are bandits operating afloat in the many waterways of the province. If it comes to a question of a big expedition to rout out these pests, we have not the slightest doubt that foreign naval forces would gladly assist in the work of ridding Kwangtung of this ever-present evil.

The September number of First Aid, the journal of the Order of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem in England, contains a leading article highly eulogistic of the work done by the St. John Ambulance Brigade in Hongkong during the recent disturbances and also in connection with the disaster in Po Hing Fong. The editor concludes a lengthy editorial by saying that "no praise can be too high for the self-denial and devotion to duty exhibited by the St. John Ambulance Brigade in this dreadful disaster, and the Order of St. John is proud of its soldiers in Hongkong."

The following Special Order of the Day was issued by Colonel C. Russell-Brown, D.S.O., yesterday:—The General Officer Commanding the Forces in China announces with deep regret the death of Her late Majesty Alexandra, the Queen Mother. In making this announcement the General Officer Commanding knows that he is voicing the sympathy of all ranks now serving in China. The deep interest which our beloved Queen Mother always took in the service and the many charitable institutions connected therewith will be sadly missed and gratefully remembered.

SINGAPORE LETTER.

The Governorship—Colony's Big Future—The "Rugger" Problem.

(Our Own Correspondent.)

Singapore, Nov. 14. As Mark Twain said when he read his obituary, the reports of our Governor's retirement have been greatly exaggerated. At his first public appearance since he returned to the Colony, Sir Laurence Guillemard very decisively knocked on the head the interesting rumours that have been in circulation during his absence. So far from his throwing off the burden of office within a few months, or even weeks, as had been suggested in a London message, His Excellency announced that he hoped to spend more than one more Armistice Day in Malaya. At the time, he was addressing an ex-Servicemen gathering, and the very marked warmth of the welcome extended to him on this occasion was significant. Of His Excellency's personal popularity there can be no question, and when an attack upon him, couched in singularly ungracious terms, appeared in a local paper on the very afternoon of his arrival from Home, public sentiment reacted strongly in the opposite direction. The publication in the same paper, and on the same day, of details of the proposed changes in the Federal Constitution, was followed by an official statement that the proposals there outlined bore little if any relation to those which will be laid before the Federal Council next month. The Straits Times, however, maintains that its information came from a reliable source, and official denials, at home or abroad, are like advance theatrical notices—to be taken with a grain of salt. So we can but wait and see. Armistice Day was duly observed down here with the usual religious services and ex-Servicemen festivities, and we also had the two-minute's silence, but this solemn observance is curiously unsatisfactory in a city such as ours, where it is ignored in Chinatown. Fortunately the day was a public holiday, and there was little traffic in the streets, so that the interval between the guns seemed quiet enough to the crowded congregation assembled in the Cathedral.

Our Imperial Future.

The distinguished soldier who is responsible for the defence of this country had some remarkable things to say at the ex-Servicemen banquet on Armistice Night. He told us that in due time Singapore will be the Clapham Junction of the airways of the eastern and southern worlds, that we shall have surface craft, submarines, a minefield, heavier land defences, an increased garrison, and many other things which will change the face of Singapore, and possibly invest Penang and several of the magnificent but almost unknown harbours on the west coast of Malaya with an Imperial importance which they do not now possess. Sir Theodore Fraser added that these things were coming the more surely because they were coming slowly. If the statue of Sir Stamford Raffles, brooding over the harbour near the scene of these festivities, had ears to hear, these words would have been pleasant hearing for the founder of Singapore, for no more emphatic confirmation of his choice of the site of this port could have been vouchsafed. General Fraser also told us that Cameron's Plateau, the proposed site for a hill-station in the northern hills of the Peninsula, will one day be a vast metropolis of health, with accommodation for thousands of people, and surrounded by farms and gardens of every description. Well, Cameron's Plateau is still virgin jungle, and largely unexplored, and the Straits of Johore, save for the giant causeway which links Singapore island with the mainland, are as desolate and beautiful as they have been ever since the sailing clippers passed that way into the China Sea. Signs are not wanting, however, that serious work is about to be commenced on the naval base. A veritable mammoth among dredgers has arrived from Portsmouth, extra personnel are coming out, and the apparent inaction of the last few months, which have been occupied in survey work, is at last beginning to bear fruit. The naval base site is sixteen miles from Singapore, and attracts few people, for the reason that there is nothing to see there, and, indeed, it requires an elastic imagination to picture battle-cruisers anchored in these mangrove-fringed solitudes.

AT-MEMORIAL SERVICE.

His Excellency the Governor is here seen (right-hand back seat of car) arriving at St. John's Cathedral for the memorial service to victims of the "M. 1" submarine disaster. Also in the car are Sir Matthew Nathan and the Hon. Mr. A. G. M. Fletcher. (Photo: Ming Yuen.)

What Malaya Wants.

It was fortunate that the occasion caught General Fraser in a mood of prophecy, for he has told us more about the Imperial destiny of Singapore and Malaya, as it is being planned in the offices grouped about Whitehall, than anyone else has ventured to do. It may be true that his statements were vague and general enough, but he speaks with unique authority, and with the knowledge that the public snatch eagerly any crumbs of information regarding the alluring subject of our future that our reticent Government lets fall. The developments General Fraser foreshadowed will have direct and indirect results for the civilian population, and the latter will be the most important. When it all comes true, we shall be just as intent upon tin and rubber as we are to-day, and H.M. Forces will go their own, inobtrusive, quietly efficient way, but indirectly the existence of a naval and air base should result in a very great increase in the amenities of life in Malaya. The three things we look forward to here, and which another generation will certainly have, are a proper hill-station, wireless, and airways. We need wireless to supplement our news service, and the very excellent service which is collected at Bandoeng in Java, and distributed to all the newspapers of the Dutch East Indies shows what can be done in this direction; it is to be hoped that one day the British Admiralty will follow the precedent set by the United States, and allow their stations to be used for this purpose. Facilities for air travel would make an incredible difference to our life here. This country, with its calm seas, many rivers, and serene weather, is ideal for flying, and Colonel de Pinedo showed us, when he passed over the Peninsula, that it would be possible, with proper facilities for air travel, to breakfast in Singapore and be in Java for tiffin, or spend the weekend in Penang, four hundred miles away, or in the hills of Sumatra, and be back in our offices on Monday morning. As a matter of fact it is by no means certain that airways could not be operated profitably already between Singapore and the Dutch Indies, considering the extent of the tourist traffic.

HOLDING UP RUGBY SEASON.

The Clerk of the Weather has evidently decided to remind us of the fact that in Singapore we play the Rugby game more or less on sufferance. Ordinarily we expect to start "rugger" about the middle of October, although the ground at that stage is not usually in a condition to encourage heroic tackling. In November, December, and January, on the other hand, the only danger is that the ground may be under water, although the scientifically-drained sports stadium which we now have at Singapore has proved a great boon, and stands the constant wear of "soccer" in the dry season, and the deluges of the wet monsoon with equal success. The first four weeks of the "rugger" season have been phenomenally dry, and the result is that Singapore will play in the southern semi-final of the Malaya Cup next Saturday with a team selected practically on the strength of the usual newcomers, versus the Rest fixture which opens the season. Our up-country rivals have not had the same handicap, and it is more than probable that Singapore, which has been the strongest side in Malayan Rugby ever since the war, is not likely to reach the final this year. The Malaya Cup, by the way, is proving a source of some embarrassment to Rugby men down here. This cup, together with a similar "soccer" trophy, was presented

DAY BY DAY.

KEEP GOOD COMPANY, AND YOU WILL BE OF THE NUMBER.—George Herbert.

The opening rate of the dollar on demand to-day is 2s. 4.7/16d.

The annual Police Ball will take place on Wednesday, December 23.

The Charity Football match played on Poppy Day resulted in an addition of $525 to the Earl Haig Fund.

Mr. E. Zoltyn, who is appearing for the defence in the Atherton case, is instructed by Messrs. Hall and Hind, and not by Messrs. Hall Brutton & Co., as stated yesterday.

Last week's health return contained only two cases of infectious disease, one each of scarlet fever and enteric fever—both Chinese, reported from the Victoria registration district. There was a clean bill of health for Monday.

The Canton Government has invested the control of the Arsenal in a committee of eight members, the personal of which includes Dr. C. C. Wu, a member from the Engineers Union and two members from the Allied Labour Union.

It has been decided by the Committee of the Institution of Engineers and Shipbuilders of Hongkong not to hold the annual ball this year, it being felt that under present adverse circumstances it would be unnecessary extravagance to do so.

There were 29 entries in the bogey pool competition arranged by the Royal Hongkong Golf Club, played between the 21st and 23rd, instant, and the result was:—Mr. H. U. Ireland (1 down), Mr. J. Hooper (2 down), Mr. C. A. Peel and Mr. W. Lang (both 4 down).

It has been reported that the Canton Government intends to appoint a Committee of five to manage the affairs of the Kwangtung University. The committee will consist of Messrs. Wang Ching-wei, Tan Yen-kai, Wu Chao-shu, Chen Kung-pok and one other.

The soundness of British financial institutions and ready support which is being extended to Hongkong to help it tide over present conditions are well exemplified in the announcement on Page 3 of this issue in regard to the deposit of gilt-edged securities by the Mercantile Bank of India to the Crown Agents as security for additional note issue in Hongkong in connection with the Trade Loan.

ed by H.M.S. Malaya for competition throughout the peninsula, but owing to the unevenness of the State and Settlement sides, and the impossible distances between the various towns, the competition has proved less and less satisfactory, and next season it is proposed to ask the donors' consent to a change being made. Either the ownership of the trophy will be decided by a match between the Colony and the Federated Malay States, or between North and South, or there is a third alternative of running the competition on knock-out lines, with fixtures played on neutral grounds where the distance makes this necessary.

PLAY AND PLAYERS.

THE INTERNATIONAL WALKING RACE.

By "Wanderer."

Since the suggestion was thrown out some weeks back that Hongkong should inaugurate an International Walking Race following more or less the lines of the contest which is a feature annually of Shanghai's round of sport, the matter has, like most revolutionary ideas do in this Colony, fallen for the time being into the realms of oblivion, and has been more or less forgotten.

I use the term revolutionary in the sense that I may or may not be exaggerating in expressing the opinion that walking as a form of exercise is locally regarded as the least of all the virtues, though there is the essence of truth in the rumour that on being informed of the proposed walking race a local broker challenged his English friend to a race for a bet of $100 inside—that his ricksha coolie fully loaded would race that of his friend to Shaukiwan and back to the Hongkong Hotel, or any other local hotel which he cared to nominate.

The Portuguese community, however, appear to be taking up the pastime—that is not intended to be humorous—in the "proper spirit," and, following the very successful walk last week under the auspices of the Club de Recreo, a race for ladies is being arranged to take place in the near future. The course will be from the Club de Recreo to Homantin and back, and as several young Amazons have signified their intention of competing a most interesting race should result.

It is further suggested that another race for the benefit of the men should be arranged and the originator of the latest idea regards the most suitable course as being Castle Peak to Kowloon. The suggestion deserves every encouragement, though were the promotion an English one, the enthusiast would probably be required to walk it himself as an evidence of good faith.

To return to the origin of this article, the International Walking Race suggestion, I was surprised to find in going through the revised list of members of the Recreation Grounds Committee recently, that Hongkong has its own Amateur Athletic Association, though what this body has been doing with itself for the past year or so, there was of course no means of telling. I am informed that at one time the Association took a real interest in athletics in the Colony, held its annual sports, etc.

Perhaps it would regard the International Walking Race as a very reasonable excuse for coming once again into the limelight and justifying its existence. I understand that Mr. J. L. McPherson has some connection with the Association and it would be interesting to have from him some information as to its true position.

There must be quite a number of keen walkers in the Colony who would be perfectly willing to represent their country in an International Race.

I remember having promised to hike with a local enthusiast some weeks ago, having panted at his heels in previous cross-country marathons which he jokingly called walks. It was drizzling as I walked up the steps and I was smiling, being not the least bit disappointed with the weather.

He wanted to know how long I had been praying for rain, though naturally he received the assurance that nothing was further from my thoughts and that I was prepared to walk his rheumatic leg off from the hip joint. As long as it was raining, it was perfectly safe to threaten.

At the time the gentleman I am referring to is a keen walker and as our conversation that day was mainly on the theme of an International Race, he is only one of quite a number who would be prepared to compete if the idea bit catches on with the right people.

If the H. K. A. A. is still sleeping the sleep of the just, perhaps the V. R. C. might consider the promotion of the race. The Portuguese will enter, that is a certainty, and there appears no reason why there should not be an English team, Scottish team and American team.

ANOTHER BOXING CHALLENGE.

One of the many spectators at the tournament of the Hongkong

Boxing Association on Saturday, was H. Major, whose particular interest was the bout between A. B. Gardner of the Hermes and Drummer Bowles of the Surrey, both of whom have recent wins over him to their credit. Major has been sufficiently encouraged as the result of the display of both men to come out with a challenge to either at 126 pounds, and, moreover, is willing to back himself up to $100.

The fight on Saturday saw Gardner, heavier than Bowles, come out on top, but Major, with whom I was talking last evening is confident of his ability to reverse previous decisions with both men, provided he has sufficient time in which to train.

That is why he prefers to wait until January.

REFEREE'S DECISIONS.

With regard to a letter from the Hongkong Boxing Association published in a contemporary and written with the object apparently of "preventing the public from losing confidence in the controllers of the Association's contests," I would, following the matter generally and not taking into consideration the justification or otherwise of criticism of Mr. Murdoch, point out that newspapermen are fully aware of the difficulty of finding a referee or umpire in any sport so capable that his every ruling will meet with approval.

Some sections of the public will homeward vend their weary way after a sporting contest of any description and console themselves with the thought that their particular favourites would have won if control had been in other hands. They might even write to the papers about it.

But in writing as it has in reference to its referees, I hope the H. K. B. A. does not anticipate that errors and mistakes on their part will be passed over in future without comment.

MULTUM IN PARVO.

Cyril Tolley has returned to golf. His adventure into tennis lasted as far as the second round of the first tournament he entered. The trouble was probably that the tennis ball would not stay teed up long enough for him to get a fair sock at it.

This Jim Cartledge challenge and counter-challenge business has given us the first clue as to why it is called the Silent Navy.

A fight expert is a shrewd penetrating gentleman who can instantly spot a great fighter when the great fighter has proved he is a great fighter.

It appears a local football captain is allowed to captain his side any way he wants to provided he captains it the way he is told by the rest of the team.

Mr. Flo Ziegfeld is importing into America an English girl reputed to have the most beautiful back in captivity. While may be he is not so beautiful, Bob Wynne is the back we have seen in this Colony.

With all the wonders science had contributed to humanity nothing yet has been devised that will calm the anguish of the local golfer who on Sunday muffed a ten-inch putt.

AMERICAN BOXING.

News from America is to the effect that Harry Wills has been matched to fight Floyd Johnson, which seems fair enough since everybody else has beaten Johnson and Wills should get his chance. A ring-side seat should sell for every bit of fifty cents gold.

Johnson has the heart of a lion, but he has never been unduly congratulated on his punching ability, and since the only way he appears to know of how to fight is to tear into his opponent, he cannot hit hard enough to make that plan of campaign effective against a good man.

Wills apparently wants to force Dempsey into the same ring but if he showed any desire to take on such men as Gene Tunney, or George Godfrey he would gather more sympathy.

With Tunney he could guarantee a big gate and it is doubtful whether he can make any fortunes out of Dempsey, since those articles he has signed are apt to mean about as much as the Einstein theory does to a Hottentot.

CHRISTMAS MAILS.

SOME STRIKING FIGURES.

Although it is well-nigh impossible to give detailed figures of what might be termed the "Home Christmas Mail" on account of the fact that posting for Christmas is spread over several mails, the Hongkong Post Office has spent a particularly busy time during the past few weeks, and the volume of business handled must have constituted or been near to a record. From enquiries we have made, we learn that as regards the mail which closed on Saturday morning last and which was dispatched by the s.s. Hakusan Maru, the number of registered letters and packages was easily a record—4,218 as against 3,976 the previous year. Posting of unregistered letters was extremely heavy and the Post Office staff spent a particularly busy time during the last few hours in getting the mail away. There were heavy inward mails at the same time, and it speaks volumes for the organization and spirit of the staff—practically a new one since the strike—that the work went through so smoothly. Mr. T. Hynes, the Superintendent of Mails, is to be congratulated on the result.

HEAVY PARCELS WORK.

More definite figures are available regarding the parcels mail which closed on November 13th. The number of parcels sent away in the Christmas Mail was 3,069, and this is just a record; the figure for the five previous years being:—1920, 2,858 parcels; 1921, 2,767 parcels; 1922, 2,713 parcels, 1923, 3,050 parcels; and 1924, 3,050 parcels. The week between November 6th and November 11th, must have constituted a record in the history of the parcels office of the G. P. O. for over 6,000 parcels were handled. In addition to the 3,069 already mentioned, there were 931 inward parcels by the mail from London, 1,205 inward and transit parcels from Canton, 221 inward parcels from Shanghai, 460 parcels in transmission from Shanghai, as well as parcels despatched to other places in China, Japan and America. All these parcels were handled by practically new men and, considering all things, the work went quickly and smoothly.

Owing to difficulties of getting freight down from Canton, the Chinese are sending goods by parcels post and an average of well over 200 parcels a day are now being received here. This figure is tremendously in excess of normal experience.

The Home parcels mail closing on Friday will also be a heavy one, nearly 400 parcels having already been received.

JAPANESE AIRMEN.

ENTERTAINED IN ENGLAND.

Among the spectators of the Tattoo at Wembley last month were the two Japanese airmen, Major H. Abe and Mr. K. Kawachi, who had flown from Tokyo to London.

They had been entertained that particular night by the Air Ministry at the Garden Club, where the gathering included the Secretary for Air (Sir Samuel Hoare), the Japanese Charge d'Affaires, the Duke of Sutherland, and Lord Peel. The Duke of Sutherland had previously taken the chair of a luncheon given in honour of these same visitors by the Royal Aero Club and the Society of British Aircraft Constructors. He there acknowledged the pioneer work which had been done for aviation in Japan by the Japanese journal Asahi, and said that Major Abe was a highly experienced officer of the flying services, while Mr. Kawachi was a pilot of Asahi service between Tokyo and Osaka. Sir Philip Sassoon, Under-Secretary for Air, said that the flight from Tokyo to London had added fresh lustre to the history of Japanese aeronautics. We in England could look with sincere admiration on the progress Japan was making in this and other scientific achievements and we did not forget either the long friendship of the British race with Japan or the way Japan played her part manfully in the Great War.

A third entertainment was a luncheon given by Messrs. Vickers, Limited, which was attended by, among others, Sir Arthur Whitten Brown, who flew the Atlantic, Flying Officer Plenderleith, who took part in MacLaren World Flight, and Sir Quinton Brand, who flew from London to Cape Town. Next day Major Abe and Mr. Kawachi went to Farnborough and flew their machines to Croaydon, and in the evening were the guests of the Council of the Japan Society and the Japanese Club at dinner.

Several kegs containing gold to the value of £8,000, representing the indemnity paid by the Afghan Government for the killing of an Italian subject, were unloaded from a steamer at Brindisi recently and forwarded to Rome.

EARLIER TELEGRAMS.

UNIVERSITY STUDENTS RUN WILD.

Evanston, Ill., November 24. While celebrating the past year's football achievements of their team, the students of the North West University here, yesterday burned down the unoccupied "Fraternity Club." They started several other small fires and fought the police and firemen who attempted to interfere. Several persons were injured on both sides and the police were finally compelled to make use of tear gas to disperse the thousand men and girl students.

Subsequently the students started to burn the old wooden stadium but desisted when the University football captain explained that the new stadium would probably not be ready until next Autumn.—Reuter's American Service.

GERMAN INDUSTRIAL CONCERNS.

Berlin, November 24. The Richard Kahn Trust, consisting of a score of machine building firms in Berlin and South Germany, has applied for "official supervision" on account of the worsening of the economic situation and the scarcity of credit.

Simultaneously the Stinnes Afa Motor Car Company have finally announced bankruptcy after a long fight to keep going.—Reuter.

AMERICAN AVIATION SCANDAL.

Washington, November 24. Colonel Mitchell, giving evidence in his own defence, reiterated the charge that the American Government departments were "guilty of almost treasonable negligence" because they failed to provide adequate aerial defence against foreign aggression. He expressed the opinion that an enemy aeroplane a hundred miles out at sea could drop bombs by wireless, directed at will, within an area as large as New York City and never miss the target.—Reuter's American Service.

FRENCH CABINET CRISIS.

Paris, November 24. One of M. Briand's main objections to the Premiership is his desire to remain at the Foreign Office to finish the work of the Locarno Conference. The Radicals are agitating for an Herriot Cabinet to include Socialists, but thirty Socialist deputies are opposed to participation in the Government, hence the Left Cartel is threatened with a split. The solution of the crisis is therefore likely to be delayed owing to a difficulty in finding a stable majority whereon either a Cartel Cabinet or a concentration Ministry could be based.—Reuter.

THE RUBBER SHARE MARKET.

London, November 24. The rubber share market remains the centre of attraction on the Stock Exchange, but while conditions in this section are very active, dealers are now exercising a little more restraint, and although in one or two places prices have given way slightly, the tone generally remains very firm.—Reuter.

EUROPEAN LETTER.

[By Milton Kranner for the Telegraph.]

London, Oct. 20.—A hay market. You naturally think of some small country town if you speak of that kind of market. You see the tall hay wagons with the farmers nearby. And beyond them you see the green fields from which the hay comes. All this, despite the fact that this is the age of the motor-driven vehicle and the decline of the horse.

But come with me for a stroll just a short distance beyond London's Wall Street district.

We turn a corner and are in Aldgate—quite a different world from the one we have just left. Lombard street and its kindred streets were streets of money. Aldgate is the entrance way to the vast, dreary, endless, stretching miles of London's East End.

And right in the heart of it, on a wide street drawn up four abreast, are loads of hay. Here is the hay market.

The police have often objected to it. They say it takes up too much space and slows up traffic. But custom is still stronger than the police.

The market stays. It will probably still be going strong in the twenty-first century—if there are any horses left in London.

The manager of a big restaurant in London said the other day that in the world's biggest city there were only 80 first-class waiters.

And he lamented the fact that, owing to the unemployment situation in Britain, the Government would not allow the foreigner to come in and take the job he is so well fitted for.

In London waiters are graded thus:

Italians—the best of all.
Swiss—best for table d'hôte service in hotels.

French—make good head-waiters.
Germans—have good discipline.
English—oh-er—good for banquets.

Bond Street—narrow, poorly-built Bond Street—is rejoicing. All summer long the street has been closed to vehicular traffic because the authorities were giving it a much needed resurfacing.

And the shopkeepers and the newspapers moaned about it because the summer visitors were thus being kept off from—"the world's greatest shopping street." The fact of the matter is, of course, that Bond Street is living on past traditions.

There was a time when it was the street of the world. Its only rival was the Rue de la Paix in Paris. You can still get precious and rare and costly things in Bond Street. But there is, probably nothing you can buy there that you can't get in the great shopping streets of most big towns.

Business in America is more often than not simply business. It is simply a case of "get the dollars." In London, business is business, plus romance.

Take sugar, for instance.

The ordinary wholesale sugar dealer or broker in New York or Chicago has to consider mainly only the American and Cuban crop, especially if you include in the term "American," the sugar from Hawaii and the Philippines.

But England gets its sugar from everywhere. Go in any morning to the office of any big sugar broker and you will find on his tables samples that have just arrived from Demerara, from South Africa, from India, from the West Indies, from Czechoslovakia, from all over the globe.

It's a lesson in the romantic geography of commerce. It opens up visions of all kinds of races in all kinds of climates toiling in the sun to raise the precious stuff that will sweeten man's morning cup of coffee.

Paderewski, king of the piano, scored neatly not long ago off a very rich patron of music, who also happens to be an autograph fiend.

The great Pole had just finished playing in a crowded salon before an assembly of the ultra-fashionable.

ARMS POSSESSION.

BOATMAN SENT TO PRISON FOR TWO YEARS.

An Expensive Favour.

A Chinese was charged before Mr. E. W. Hamilton and Major C. Willson at the Kowloon Magistrate's court yesterday on a charge of unlawful possession of a revolver loaded in two chambers, and pleaded not guilty.

A Chinese detective giving evidence, said that in consequence of a statement made to him by a man who had been arrested in connection with an armed robbery which had been committed earlier, he boarded the defendant's boat which was then lying alongside the Shamshulpo Ferry Wharf at 11.30 p.m. on the 17th inst. There were four of the occupants asleep on deck and the defendant after he was aroused by the witness, whispered that he had a revolver at the stern of the boat and that the detective should not inform Sgt. Munro who was with the party. Witness then discovered the revolver loaded in two chambers, in a pocket of an overcoat.

Making a statement, the defendant said that he was visited by a friend who wished to leave a certain article on the boat to be called for the following day. It was not till he was retiring for the night and felt the revolver in his overcoat pocket when using the garment as a blanket that he discovered the nature of the article deposited by his friend.

Sentence of two years' hard labour was imposed.

Now most men, when pressed to add their autographs to a book which contains the signatures of other great men, belabour their brains to set down some bright thought.

Not so Paderewski. Legend hath it that he scribbled: "I played while your guests talked."
